Ellis to introduce low-cal menu at Alice's soon

After the RINO weigh-in at the Christmas Party, head chef Ellis declared that Alice's will be featuring a 'diet menu' next year. The recent Board meeting found directors still pondering the specifics of a proposed "Corporate and Associate" membership category. Special thanks were extended to the Salvation Army

Bellringers who represented Wenatchee North, led by chairman Jim Goodwin. The Board will also be presenting a ballot to vote for WNR officers for 2012-13 at the next regular meeting on December 28.

Visitors included former member Marco Azurdia, now commissioner of the NWAACC and living in Portland. Since he was unable to attend the Christmas Party and participate in person at the "weigh-in" tiebreaker, Ryan O'Ralphie gave him an opportunity to size up the competition. Azurdia showed he knew exactly what he was up against by getting all five weights correct.

The program featured Nick Gavin and Marshall Wallace with a presentation about the Wenatchee Valley Rappellers. The helicopter fire suppression organization has a 28-32 member crew (14 full-time) who rappel on 230 foot lines from hovering helicopters. When Dave Doerr saw the video, he decided not to apply afterall.

• Guests included Blake Campbell (Bryan Campbell's son), Jolene Baker (Chris Baker), Gary Mullen (Greg Brown) and Bob Snyder (Rich Adams). Oh, yeah, Uncle Bud was in attendance as well.

• Yes, indeed, there will be a meeting on December 28 by President Alice's decree...Joe Gaspers and Jim Goodwin are scheduled Greeters.

• Don't forget the upcoming Rotary Blood Drawing on Jan. 2 in case you have some to spare with relatively low alcohol content.
